“ Mema was one of the most accepting people I have ever met. I feel lucky to have had her as my grandmother. I often think of her when I'm cooking. Whenever you would walk into her home, it would have the most amazing smells. The smells of southern cooking. The smell of home. I used to love that first walk into her house where it would all hit you at once. I will miss you Mema. I love you!

“ I have so many loving memories of Eleanor. I think she may have been my dad's double 1st cousin but he considered her more like a sister and she was definitely 1 of my 4 aunts! I spent a year working in Jacksonville and couldn't wait to retreat to her house on the weekend for some much needed rest and relaxation. We would get up in the morning, have breakfast poolside, read books in our lounge chairs, dip in the pool when we got hot, and get out and read some more! I use to tell her "I want to live just like you when I retire". We usually went out to eat dinner but sometimes she made me the best fried chicken ever! When I look back at all the good times and laughter we shared at the DuVal Mansion in Madison (shack), I can't help but smile. I hope Eleanor and Jackie are together and giggling like old times.

*Forever in my heart,
